

Workshops for Faculty Spring 2015

These workshops provide opportunities to learn about evidence-based teaching in discussion with colleagues from across the disciplines.

Registration is required and limited to 15 participants.

Please register at teachingcenter.wustl.edu/events.

Designing Effective Writing Assignments: Focus on Critical Thinking

Jan

Thursday Eads Hall, room 217, Danforth Campus

29 12:00 pm -1:00 pm

Registration opens January 15.

Participants will discuss strategies for crafting writing assignments that prompt students to develop, master, and demonstrate their critical-thinking skills.

Developing Rubrics for Students' Critical-Thinking & Writing Skills

Feb

Thursday Eads Hall, room 217, Danforth Campus

12 12:00 pm -1:00 pm

Registration opens January 29.

Participants will discuss how to design grading rubrics to evaluate students' thinking and writing skills.

Integrating Writing into Course Design

Feb

Thursday Eads Hall, room 217, Danforth Campus

26 12:00 pm -1:00 pm

Registration opens February 12.

Participants will discuss how to design and structure a course to help students incrementally develop and refine their writing and thinking skills.