

Spring 2015 TA-Training Workshops for Graduate Students

Graduate students who are enrolled in departments that require their attendance at The Teaching Center's TA-Training Workshops will have priority to enroll in these workshops. Registration is required, and seating is limited. For workshop descriptions, registration instructions, and workshop locations, please go to teachingcenter.wustl.edu/events/graduate-students.

Who's in Charge Here? Managing a Classroom and Responding to Common Challenges

TAs will learn how to use their authority in the classroom to create and maintain an environment that supports learning for all students. Priority registration will open on January 12, and regular registration will open on January 20.

Jan	Monday	Farrell Learning and Teaching Center 213, Med Campus
	26	4:00 pm – 5:30 pm
	Wednesday	Danforth Campus Location To Be Announced (TBA)
	28	4:00 pm – 5:30 pm

Grading and Responding to Students' Concerns about Grades

In this workshop, TAs will learn effective strategies for grading effectively and efficiently, and for talking with students about grades. Priority registration will open on February 9, and regular registration will open on February 16.

Feb	Monday	Farrell Learning and Teaching Center 213, Med Campus
	23	4:00 pm – 5:30 pm
	Thursday	Danforth Campus, Laboratory Sciences, Room 301
	26	4:00 pm – 5:30 pm

Teaching a Discussion Class

TAs will learn strategies for how to lead discussions in a manner that engages all students, supports learning, and complements overall course goals.

Priority registration will open on March 4, and regular registration will open on March 16.

Mar	Monday	Farrell Learning and Teaching Center 213, Med Campus
	23	4:00 pm – 5:30 pm
	Wednesday	Danforth Campus, Umrath Hall, Room 140
	25	12:00 pm – 1:30 pm

Participation in these workshops satisfies departmental TA-Training requirements and the introductory-level training requirement for the Teaching Citation program. For more information: teachingcenter.wustl.edu/teaching-citation.